SPIRIT

School life at Garrett High School is our way of life. We, a mixture of 800 students, get together to exchange knowledge, good ball games and many loyal friendships.

A new addition, adjustments for new faces, the banquet, sweaters, rings, a 3,000 dollar magazine sale, picnics, dates, spring, and . . . graduations.

Yes, Garrett's got it. Garrett High School has had another full year of life and memories.

The funnies that we all yelled at each other have hit the end of the wall, waiting. There were school jokes, like, "here come de judge", and that weird laugh that screamed out when a group of guys got together in the halls.

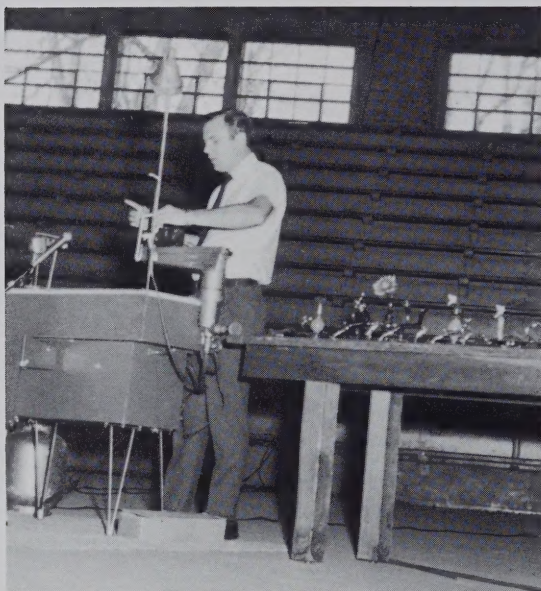

And all the songs that were so popular. Garrett has had a full year. It seems funny as you pass by and notice the locked doors and the empty flag poles.

Silent walls, empty chalk trays and one dirty pass reclining on the floor reflect past laughter, yelling, jubilation and even a little sorrow for those who leave Garrett High for bigger things.

GHS 1968 has come to a dusty close. But it was so good while it lasted. The small amount of pain and tears involved only helped us grow. And we can honestly say;

"We're glad we will be here.
 We're glad we are here.
 We're glad we were here,
 'cause it's got spirit!"

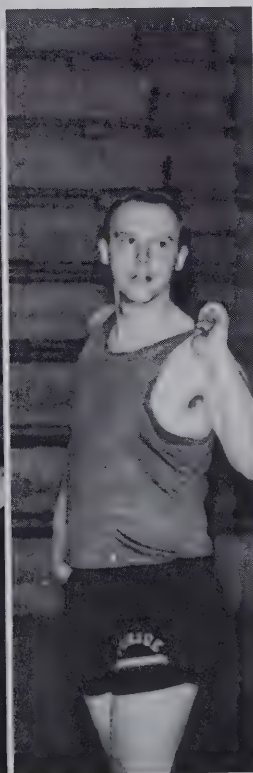

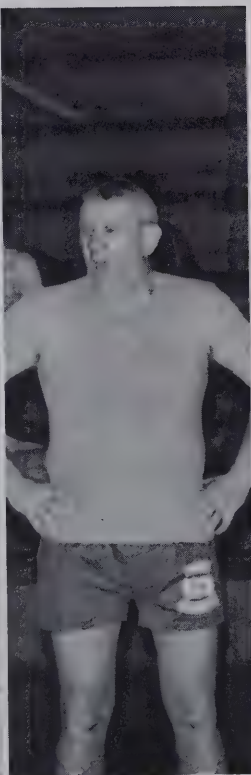

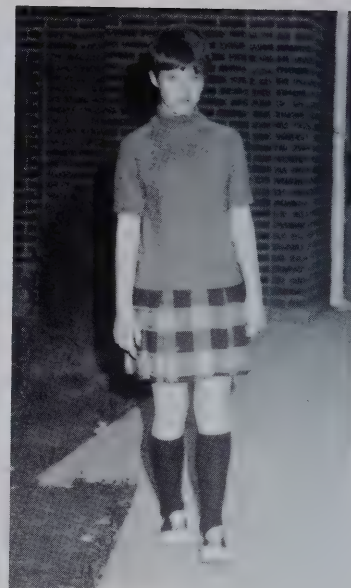

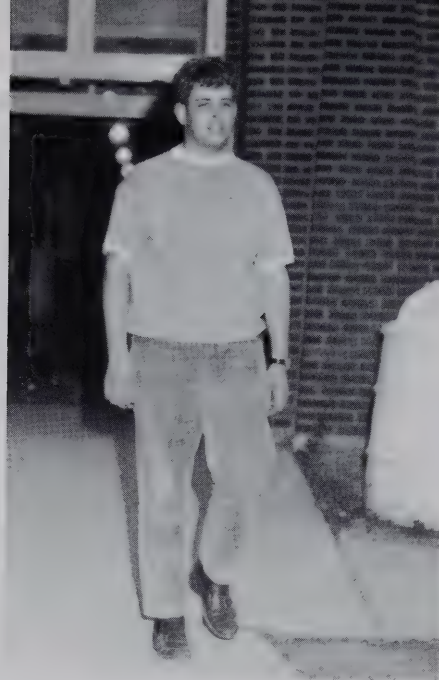

Gosh ma, I'm tired! Everyone needed a small buddah to pray to this year, in hope that just a little more energy might be given to them.

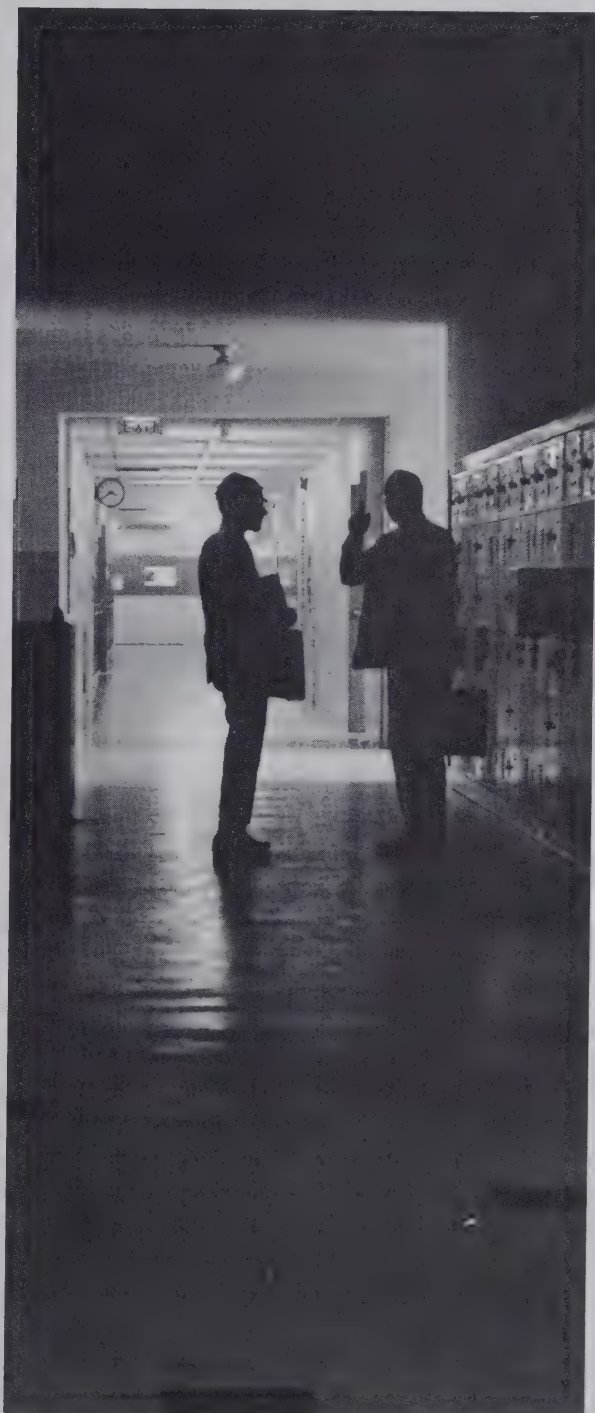

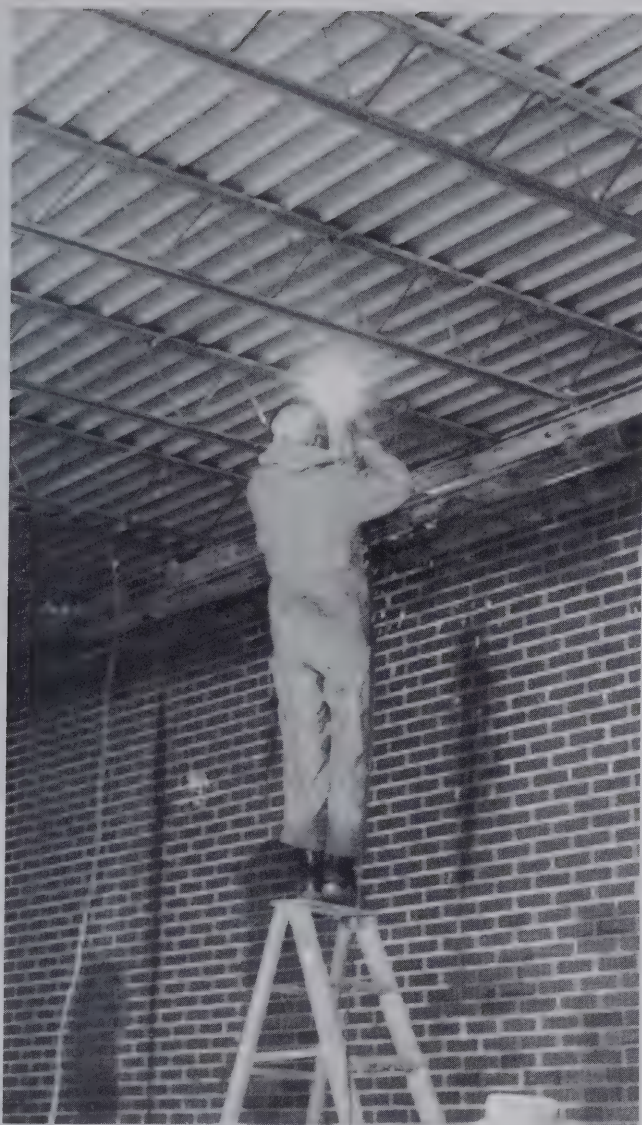

Opening day in a crowded office, convocations, and the snake dance encompassed nine long months of life.

There was little time to relax, but Nancy McKee managed a rare moment to meditate. So did a few of the squad on the teachers' basketball team.

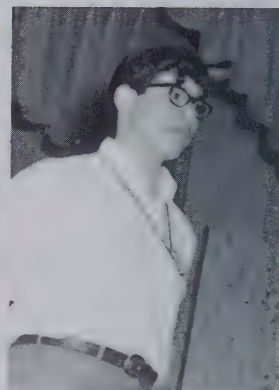

If there is one thing kids talk about,
it's things! You've got to have imagination and initiative if you want to be anything but another guy.

Take saddle shoes. Nine months ago, all you would have heard is groans, if saddle shoes were ever mentioned.

Now it's a big thing.
And you can't wear saddle shoes if you don't have pony tails--and you can't wear pony tails if you don't have a convertible to ride in--and if you have short skirts you wouldn't be caught without a beau who didn't wear a striped shirt or a short-sleeved sweater. And that's how it goes. So there!

the Dozen; World of Fantasy

The Student Council's "Capers" smashing success! Skits were based on the theme "World of Fantasy". Responsible for this year's production was senior Ethel Finn and junior Bob Novy. The emcee for the evening was Bruce Brown. In-between acts were headed by Dennis Davis and Mike Roop.

Prize winners were: "Good Ship Lollipop" by Freshman class and "Whatever happened to Mother Goose" by Business Club and "Robin Hood" by Honor Society. Best musical "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", by Streamliners, Latin club, best comedy "Julius Caesar", and most promising by Speech and Thespians, "A Day In The White House".

Ruth Ann Grawcock
Football Queen

Melanie Smith was crowned Miss Garrett this summer to begin the year's succession of reigning queens. Melanie and her court spent the weekend being scored by several judges at an afternoon tea and then at a talent contest. Melanie was crowned the following evening at the gym.

The football homecoming queen and her court followed. Ruthann Grawcock, a junior, won the honors and was crowned queen at a half time football game.

She and her court reigned at the second half entertainment and the following half of the game. Basketball homecoming followed next. Linda Ashenfelter, escorted by Barry Reese, was crowned by the co-captains of the basketball team, Tony Miller and Mike Heitz.

Love Is Blue

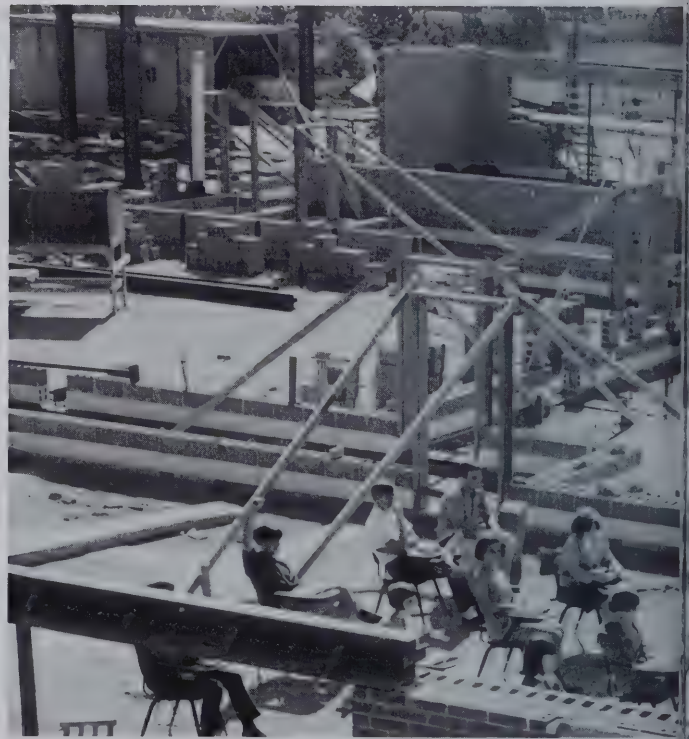

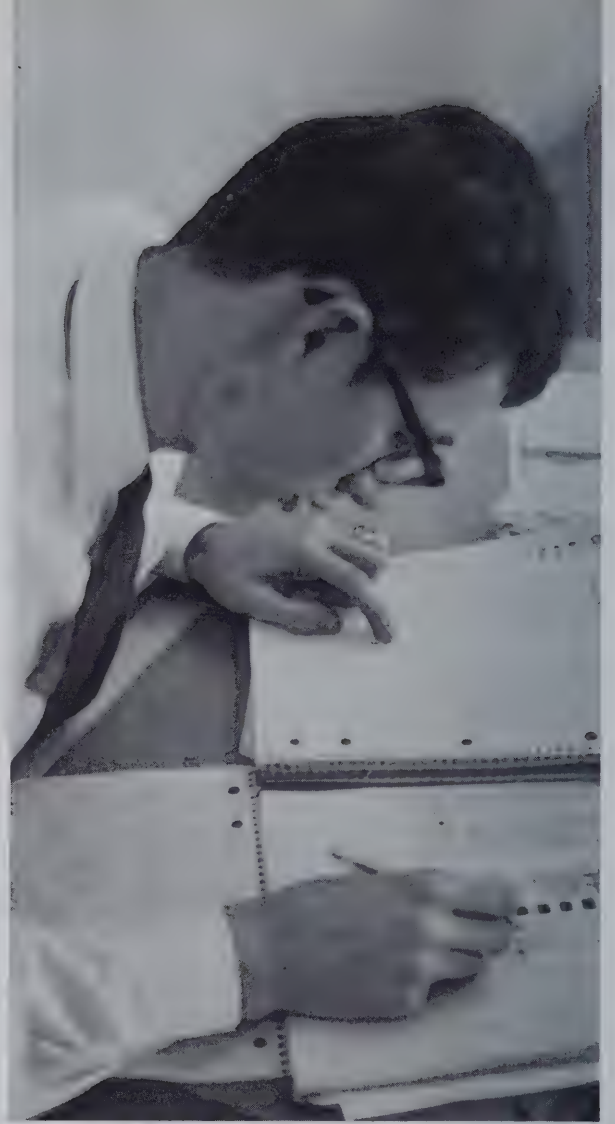

The night of the junior-senior banquet, sponsored by the junior class, was at its annual best. Bob Novy, escorting Becky Bloom, served as master-of-ceremonies. Then there was the entertainment that proved to be, well . . . entertaining! Mr. L. Baron practiced his hypnotic skills not only on the couples, but on the faculty, the principal, and even the superintendent.

The song says, "there's a place in the sun, where there's hope for everyone. Moving on, Movin' on." That's why graduations go on year after year. It's not enough to "Try to Remember," That's for graduation night and the emotion of our last time together as a group of friends and classmates. Each one has to look for his own life, his home.

Each senior that graduated from Garrett High School has to move on. They have their places to go, things to do, and people to see. That's the way it should be, that's the way each senior wants it.

CLASSES

Sandy Rosenberg

Joe Cromley

Garrett's Got It! This year of 1968 is GHS's year for growth. In classes we have searched for growth and therefore have grown just a little bit more toward fulfilling our own expectations of ourselves.

Each week is a new week for classes here at GHS. In the fall we had football to buoy up our spirits. Then came basketball, track and baseball. We didn't play those sports just on the athletic floors. We played our games in the classrooms as well, where we learned that cheating wasn't really worth it and if we tried and lost we never really did fail.

The classes of GHS are different and diversified; we talk about beans to Barrett and should be proud of it. Yes, Garrett does have it in classes. Our classes change our attitudes toward our friends and enemies, our teachers and administration--ourselves.

When the new building opens next year the ag and shop areas will be opened for use. Each of the areas will be able to expand their vocations. The shop area will have a mechanics shop where kids can bring their cars in to fix them. The agriculture students will have more areas to fit their needs.

This, then, is the 1968 symbol of growth.

with Help from School Authorities

GHS is growing. Capable administrators must back us in our growth; administrators cause our growth. This year marks another year of additions and changes as the new building goes up with a new principal and assistant principal. The school board, as the appointed citizens of Garrett, have guided and encouraged as this new administration and building have gone into effect. No one can grow on their own. That's why GHS has two guidance counselors to strengthen and encourage the students in any way they can. This is a year of growth in our school that we can take pride in and use and develop in the future years of GHS.

Students are broadened through the world of literature as each marches through the literary styles and stories of Shakespeare, Sinclair Lewis and Robert Frost, to name only a few. Composition offers a creative outlet for all seniors who care. Grammar essentials are studied as each student frantically tries to write a term paper and many outside themes. Extensive reading was emphasized in all English courses for the entire year. Speech classes stressed honesty and integrity in your life through speaking and communicating in every way. This was also a year of plays, as the classes went to various types of plays at the Civic Theatre and the colleges surrounding the Garrett area.

Exchange of Ideas Through Languages

In the fast paced world of today, communication among peoples is more important than ever before. At the same time, knowledge of man's past is essential as he faces an uncertain future. In Spanish classes, students begin mastery of one of the world's key languages. Through the study of Latin, students learn of the culture and lives of their ancestors. Both of these courses help to aid students in the knowledge and understanding that all of us strives for.

Mathematics introduces students to the art of logic and clear thinking. In general math students increase their knowledge of the business world. In algebra 9 and 10, plane geometry, trigonometry and analytical geometry, students explore and are challenged by the world of abstracts. Geometry students also were kept busy this year by studying sun spots. (?) How else could GHS know all the angles?

Social Sciences; Where We Fit In

The social sciences are the various subjects concerned with the study of man. In world and United States history, the people and events which shape the world and the nation of today are studied; in world geography, the physical make-up of the earth is studied. Civics, the study of people, places, and topography provide an in-depth study of the intricate workings of the American government. Psychology provides understanding of the human mind, while sociology and economics are studies of man and society. Exploratory teaching aided the students who plan a career in education by introducing them to practical, in-class experience as teacher's helpers, this year as in the past.

CLUBS

Nancy Tullis

Linda DePew

It's a good thing clubs are a drag. Admit it. Why else would any perfectly normal GHS student holler as loud as he can down the hall "here come de judge"? For what other reason would one find it necessary to spit out "quack" in everyone's face that one sees, as one walks down the hall. If it weren't for that abnormally dull half hour before first period no one in his right mind would actually think of "borking" around.

Praise be to clubs!

Eight o'clock at Garrett High School, each weekday morning, reminds one of Ben Casey as he slams through the operating room at the beginning of the show. The break with the outside world is quick and sharp.

This is the eight o'clock world of clubs. Each day different clubs assemble to scheme for money, negotiate inter-club parties, and plead members to "please show up" for outside meetings.

Ideas are spewn out each day. This is an outlet. Hundreds of these ideas are set in motion. Anything goes, even the ridiculous. Take the goose chase set up by the student council. Everyone that participated had a wild time, but who would believe it? Car washes, love in's, bake sales, potato chip and apple sales, outdoor record hops, first aid sprays, fashion shows, cookbooks, trips to historical monuments, conventions, initiations, fines.. Take them all. Take just one of them. They all add up to a good time that some imaginative club has sponsored.

Council Represents Student Body

This year's Student Council gave a juke box to the lunch room, presented the best Council Capers yet, gave the newspaper a new camera, and helped the Thespians finance the all-school production. They even chased a goose! They also adopted a little Korean orphan boy, and sent clothes to the Appalachian area during the fall. In the spring the Council sponsored the Little 500 which proved to be another big hit.

They also conducted a paper drive for the Wee Haven school, held a chili supper, and initiated new members into the club. The Thespian Society drenched themselves in apples, potato chips, bake sales, and car washes in order to earn enough money for the school to put on its musical for this year-- South Pacific.

Aside from money-making projects the Society painted the stage at the Big Gym. They also encountered new experiences at the Civic Theater by watching the various performances.

Oratory Big Thing in Speech Club

A small but hard working bunch, this year's Speech Club strove to give more meaning and recognition to the organization.

Debates, dramatic monologues, and speech techniques filled the meetings. The members entered a Speech contest for their main project this year. Not only did they give speeches but they also presented Thespians with a make-up kit helping out the all-school production make-up crew.

Latineers: Love-In, Banquet Et All

The money mad Latineers rushed through a year of meetings, initiations, banquets, and candy sales. A part of their evening meetings were devoted to business but their real specialties were "games" and Roman plays.

The members were shocked into submission when they were punished "pie on face" for not bringing goodies to their bake sale. Later, during a formal initiation, the new members were inducted officially into the Junior Classical League.

Mike Bennett lectures the science club.

Wayne Funk and Ed Schlotterback get ready to blow up the science room.

Soc. Studies Club

This year the Social Studies club began requiring of each prospective member a written theme explaining why that person wanted to be a member.

A trip to Tel City, Ind., began their activities. History reports, projects, and field trips added to their year.

The purpose for having such a club is to promote the study and interest of high school students in the field of history. They ended their busy year with a trip to Springfield, Illinois, the resting place of Abraham Lincoln.

Active FFA Sponsors Farmer's Hop

Promote a pig chain? That's just one of the many things Future Farmers did this year.

To begin the year they helped at the county fair and sponsored a vegetable judging team.

The boys sold Christmas trees, candy, first aid spray, and sponsored a record hop in order to earn money for their many projects.

They sent representatives to the District banquet, summer camp, and to the live-stock show.

Different members of the club entered speech contests and ran around putting up road signs?

FHA Style Show

Goodies came from the Future Homemakers in the form of brownies, cookies, and many other delightful things. The students were able to buy these yummys at the bake sales held during the year. Food wasn't the only thing in mind for the girls. They also presented the latest styles in a fashion show they sponsored this year. The new members were ushered into the organization during the winter. A make-up artist demonstrated the proper and improper ways to apply make-up. (What results)!

Brenda Pickleseimer and Carol Schiffli look pleased at the result of their sale.

The FHA also sponsored a fashion show.

Business Club Stocks Up Activities

Sandy Gradeless looks ecstatic (?) as she pounds away.

Do business and parties mix? The business club did this year. They sponsored an all-school skating party for GHS students, enjoyed a party for themselves at Pokagon State Park, invited guest speakers, and gave money to the Thom VanDerbosch fund.

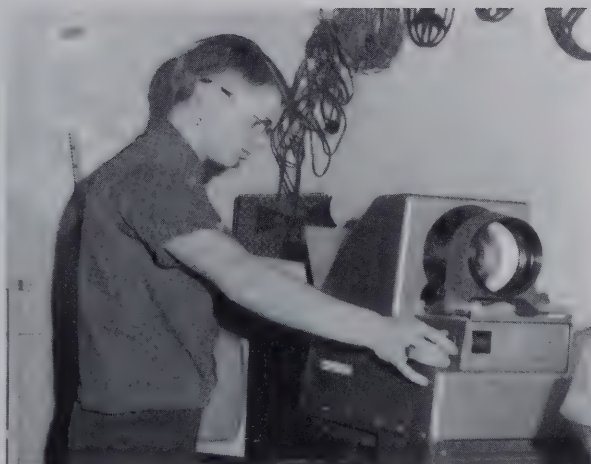

Tina Knapp and Donna Dove leave for field trip.

Operators Club: Audio-Visual Service

Operators club spent the year helping teachers set up and run movie projectors, slideprojectors, and other equipment. The boys fixed tape recorders, opaques, burnt out lightbulbs, and movie projectors. Aside from helping the teachers they helped set up projectors for P.T.A. meetings, took part in setting up convocations, and helped with many other problems concerning audio-visual equipment.

The Y-Teens had a better idea. A morp!

Morp, Initiation Success of Y-Groups

This year's Y-teens came up with some bright new ideas. They sponsored a MORP (prom spelled backwards). The girls gave Easter baskets consisting of canned foods to the needy families of the community. During the spring they sponsored a Mother-Daughter Tea.

Boy's Y-Groups; Clean, Work, Help

It could be a body Dana Heupel and Don Lampe are digging up, but we doubt it.

Hi-Y started the year by initiating new members, and continued to keep busy during the year with meetings and projects. With the arrival of spring the boys cleaned the track.

Jr. Hi-Y gave new prestige to the club when they gave a donation to the newspaper. These boys had a year busy with meetings and projects.

Band Plays at School Activities

GHS Twirlers; J. Steury, R. Emerick, P. Platner, M. Nolan.

Toot that horn! Beat that drum! That's just exactly what the GHS band did this year. They played in the parade at the Auburn fair, and at all the home football games, presenting the half-time entertainment.

They gave a public concert for the purpose of collecting money for the hospital fund drive and a Christmas concert entertained the student body at the Christmas convocation.

They entered contests this year placing high in many of them. The solo and ensemble contest was their first endeavor. Band organization contest was their second.

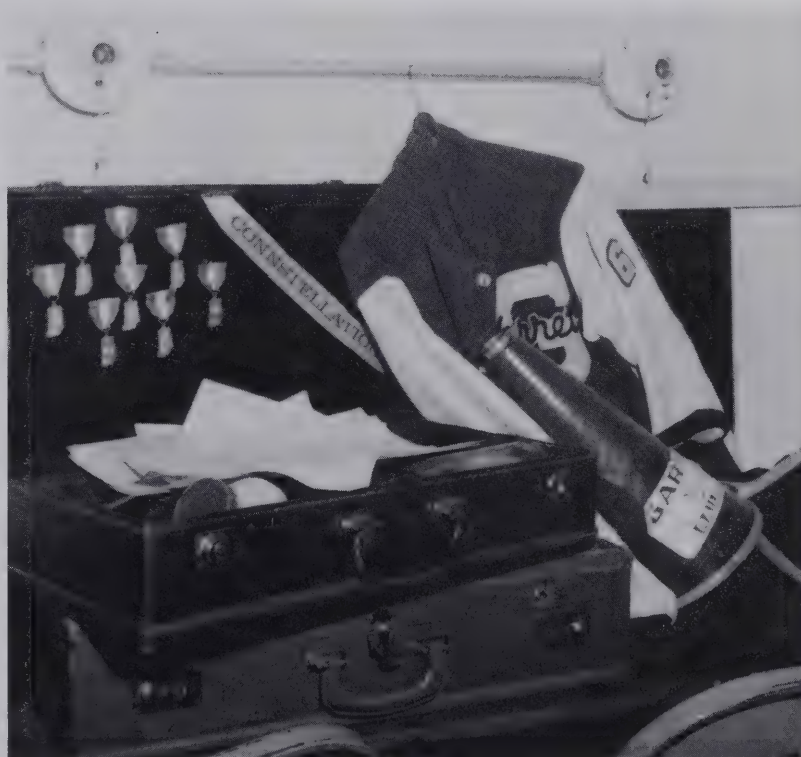

Part of the band formed an orchestra and played the music for the all-school production, "South Pacific."

Chorus Works for New Robes

Toni Miles and Dennis Davis wash cars for choir robes.

With mouths wide open the chorus sang their way through an active year of songs and projects. They started a move to get new choir robes and based their money-making endeavors around a swinging, record-breaking record hop, held during the winter, and a splashing car wash held in the spring. They didn't spend all their time making money though; they also sang! They presented a concert at the J. E. Ober school and mastered many new songs. They also entered a contest just for choruses, at a district level.

Girls Boost Team

Cheers but not jeers came from these lively girls at each home and away B-ball game. The girls had a complete new look this year. Blue cord jumpers, white blouses, and blue mittens were the outfits chosen by the group. The girls felt a need for softer seats and thought others did too, so they sold cushions to be used at B-ball and football games.

They also sponsored the football homecoming held this fall, and the basketball homecoming held during the winter.

Boys Back 'Em!

Something new for a change! Boys in the cheer block! They backed the team with undaunted spirit, and literally boosted the cheerleaders.

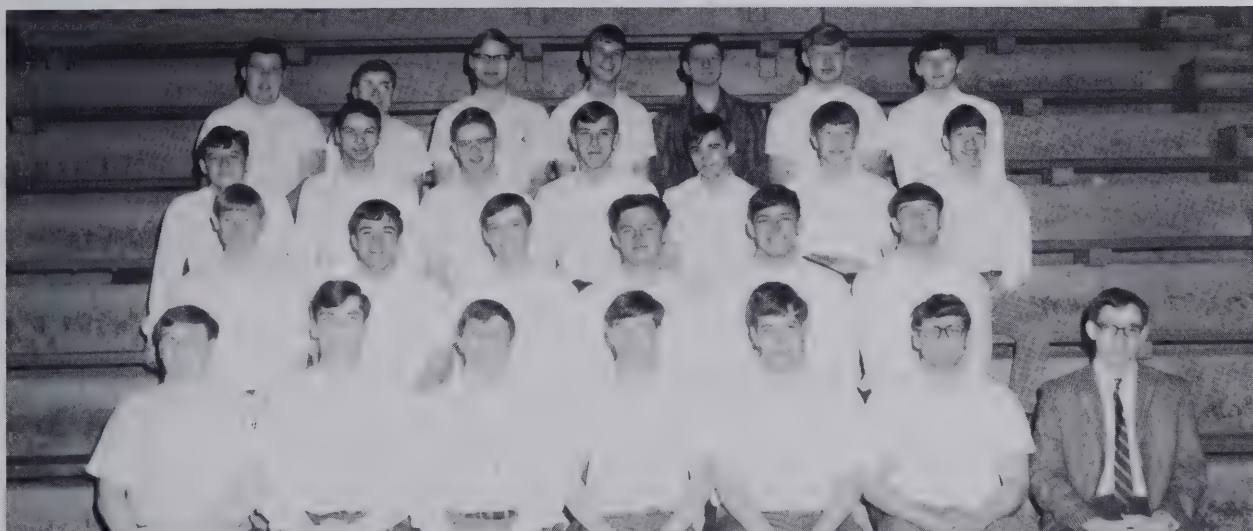

A great boon to school spirit, the boys led cheers in the halls before the close of school on days the games were scheduled. They also held a party for the members after the sectional games, giving everyone's spirit a big lift.

Tim Miller, Dan Sobieski and Steve Lampe were great cheerleaders too!

FEBRUARY

How lucky can you get? February, the nastiest, the most miserable, blindest month. School year. Again? You bet!

However, as long as we're here for eighteen more pl days, let's make the most. Probably the most noted eve in the history of the world took in this unforgettable month. Think! Such people as Henry worth Longfellow, Arron Thomas Edison, Constantin Great and Janet Haffner were in this delightful month of and dirty snow.

The Supreme Court met for first time in February of 17. February is a month of increasing wonder . . . won't to how it ever managed to this long, without being imp or something.

Another memorable occas the purchase of valentines (ably expensive ones).

All wise and intelligent history students know and love (?) this august month.

If it weren't for February, this great piece of elegant literature couldn't be printed. The reason? Gutenberg, who invented printing, was born in February.

10 REASONS I SWEAR

1. It pleases Mother so much.
2. It is a fine mark of manliness.
3. It proves I have self control.
4. It indicates how clearly my mind operates.
5. It makes my conversation so pleasing to everybody.
6. It leaves no doubt in anyone's mind as to my good breeding.
7. It impresses people that I have more than an ordinary education.
8. It is an unmistakable sign of cultured refinement.
9. It makes me a very desirable personality among women and children, in respectable society.
10. It is my way of honoring God who said "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord in vain."

Aeolian Staff September 1967

Belonging to the staff of the yearbook or the newspaper is like suddenly being thrown into communism, a concentration camp and the rabbit hole in "Alice in Wonderland". What that really means is that you never know who you are, where you are, or what you're doing in the publications room about eight o'clock on a Saturday night! The sense of belonging is so great that no one else, like the editor, will let you forget that the deadline is tomorrow and you haven't even started a layout, or copy, and you keep remembering that it was your idea of adding the sixteen pages to the yearbook. But, though complaining is thick, you know you wouldn't be anywhere else cause this is where it's at. (Or so they say).

Dumb, dumb the red nine on the black ten.

SPORTS

Steve Lampe

What's a school without sports? A dead one. We had a new football staff this year, as John Hutton took over the duties of the varsity football team. Bill Moree moved to the assistant coaches' position. GHS had a fighting football team this year as they went through the season with 2 wins and 7 losses.

Ron Hughs and Mike Lord coached the basketball team this year, leading the varsity team to a 15 win and 5 loss season.

Garrett is growing in sports as well as in classes and extracurricular activities. Next year the new field house will be put into use. The house will seat approximately 3500 people. GHS has looked forward to the new house for a long time. We will be glad to show off our Field House to the bigger schools we will be able to play, because of our increased seating capacity.

The days got warmer and the days got longer as the track boys soon found out. By the first of March they were out running. You can always tell when spring is just around the corner when the track and golf boys come into the scene.

Then, baseball. The last game of the school year is not always the least exciting. Our baseball teams proved that!

And so, another year of sports at Garrett High School. Yes, GHS does have it. Garrett's got it in sports!

Fighting Season for GHS Football

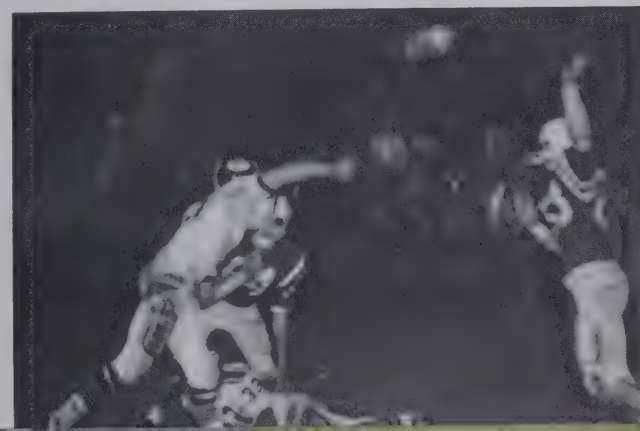

Garrett players, in a defensive huddle, discuss strategy.

When another team ended up with the winning score over Garrett this year, they knew it was an honor. The varsity team, led by coach Hutton and assistant coach Moree, played some wildly fast paced games. One of the great games of the season came when Concordia recovered a fumble on Garrett's goal line in the last few minutes of the game to limp off with a victory. The reserve football team gained experience with their season this year, as did the freshman team who ended the season with 4 wins and 2 losses.

Larry Booker makes a striking move against varsity opponents.

The Frosh Dig In

A team must have backbone. That comes from the older boys. A team must also have hope. This is where the freshmen come in. Experience is necessary on any athletic team. The freshmen got it this year, ending up with a 4 win and 2 loss season. The varsity football team has a lot to look forward to in the freshman team. They have size and will have the knowledge and experience when it is time for them to show themselves on the varsity and reserve squads.

B-Ball Season Ends with 15 Wins

I'd say it was a game of Freeze.

With the beginning of basketball season there is anticipation. With the end of the season there is a feeling of satisfaction. The varsity team has that satisfaction after 15 wins and 5 losses.

Some say they could have done worse, some say better, after two tourneys, one of which they won and one which they lost. GHS says, "we're proud not only of their record but of them." Their hustle and animation comes with a desire to do their best.

This season belongs to the cheerleaders, band, and pep squad too, as they organized support for the Railroaders.

outcome of game.

"Give us a cheer we'd like to hear."

Reserves Add Power

Frosh Have 14 Wins

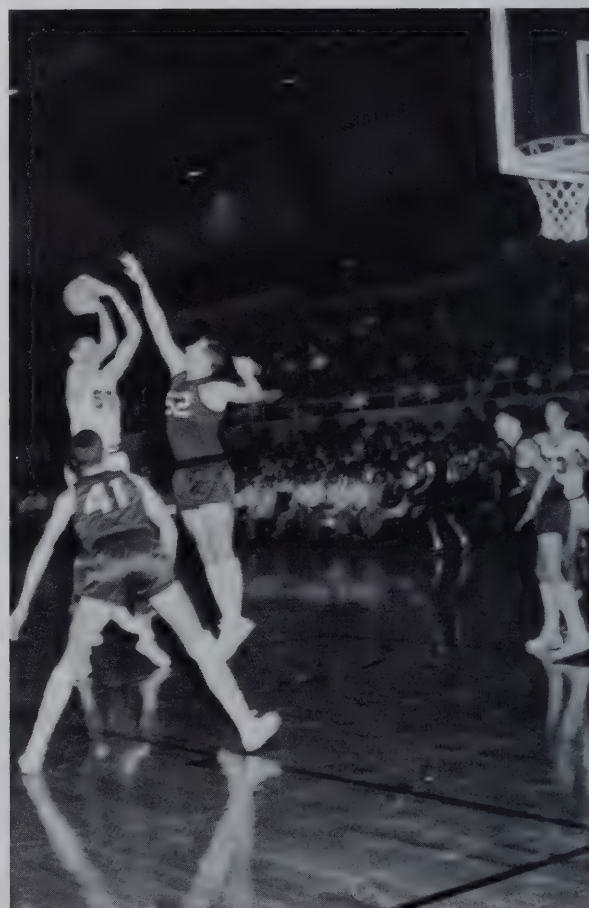

Nobody likes basketball like Garrett. This is especially true of Garrett High School. The reserve and Freshman squads make up a big part of this mania, that is so characteristic of our town.

The reserve squads played a long and difficult season. Next year this hard work and determination should pay off for them and the school. The freshman team, too, has been working. They left the floor for the last time this season with 14 wins and 4 losses.

If some one didn't know basketball, they'd say this was odd!

Let's try for two points.

"Hey, get that rebound."

Co-Captains accept trophy.

The Holiday tourney satisfied the basketball crazy fans of Garrett when we beat the Angola Hornets, winning the 1968 tournament.

The sectional was an unhappy ending to the Railroader's season this year when we lost our second game to the DeKalb Barons. Try as we might the game was just not ours. DeKalb went on to win the sectional, but was defeated by Lakeland in the first game of the regional.

With Ron Hughes in charge of this year's G-Men, the Railroaders went through a very successful season. With Seniors Sobieski, Pence, Berg, and Vanderbosh leading the way, the Railroaders pulled many games out of the fire. Much of the team's success is due to their teamwork and their ability to work in unison.

The railroaders ended their season in a 5--5. They went into the sectional being an underdog, but came through wearing the sectional crown. The regional will be at Columbia City.

Jerry Berg reaches for a new height.

Trackmen Enjoy a G-r-e-a-t Season

The track team under the guidance of Coach Ewing faired well in his first year at the realm. Despite the fact that the team was plagued with numerous injuries, many records were broken. Jerry Berg erased the standard in the pole vault. Tony Miller broke records in the two-mile and the thirty-year old record in the mile.

Determination, along with hard work and sweat, are the assets which made this team prosper. Ewing will undoubtedly miss Seniors: Tom Carpenter, Scott Laturner, Clark Bergdal, Dave Likens, Merv Porter, and Steve Lampe. But he is blessed with many talented underclassmen who are developing rapidly. The future should be bright for Garrett, Ewing, and the thinly lads. Congratulations to this year's team for a job well done. Best of luck to those who are leaving in all of their endeavors.

PEOPLE

Margaret Lilienthal

Linda Lepley

Garrett is a people place. There are all sorts of people in Garrett. Short ones, skinny ones, fat ones, nice ones, mean ones and some of each go to Garrett High School. As a matter of fact about eight hundred of the people of Garrett come from that place. And the funny thing is that they don't stay at the school; they move all over.

All of these "people" are called students. You can see them in any shape and form, doing just about anything--trying to do wheelies on their little brother's bicycle--taking someone out to a lonely road to tell them 'all about it??

They work in groceries, restaurants, gas stations, factories, private businesses, anywhere that money comes from. They're constantly complaining so you know that they must be happy.

And the things they do and the places they go! Ridiculous? Yes, but a lot of fun. They go to Springs, and the lakes, and to conferences, and beauty pageants, like Miss Garrett, Miss DeKalb, and Miss Northeastern Indiana. And on and on. There are parties after football games, banquets, get togethers, birthday and going away parties and graduations and weird things like midnight picnics in the woods. Ah, 'tis such a merry life.

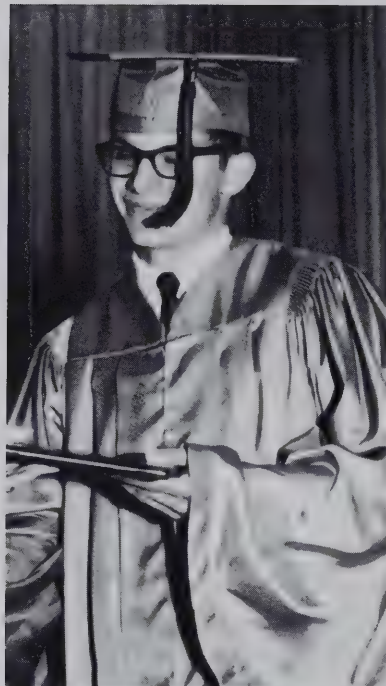

No, a student can never be too proud. He doesn't have the time in the first place, and there is so much doing without it. So, Garrett's got it--it's got a people place, with its headquarters at the Garrett High School.

One hundred and fourteen strong, the graduating class of 1968 has a personality and atmosphere all its own. The final year of school was fast, and just a little sad. All of the things that no one had tried all went into the senior year. The parties that we hadn't had before were all given, the friends and the good times seemed just a little brighter and a little more lasting. The class had begun to grow up and be heard. We had ideas and philosophies to be discussed. We became more than just student; we became a part of the school.

JR HIGH

Leila Scheurich

Cosette Kearns

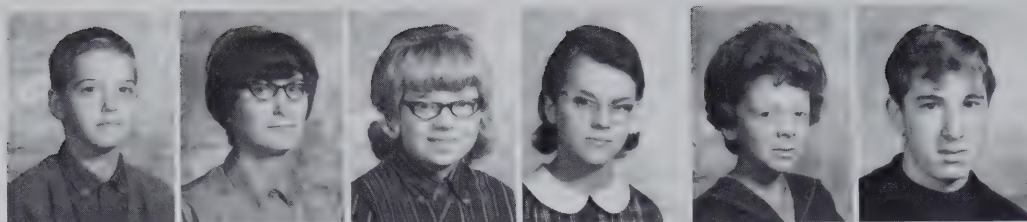

Not just anybody is allowed to be a member of the junior high school. The qualifications are very rugged. As a matter of fact, even the members can take the pace for two years and then must go on to different things. First of all, a junior high'er must be willing to work with a speed that amazes. He must be able to go all day long and then be able to grab a glass of milk and rush for the track, a friend's house or an evening at the books.

To be in the junior high is to be in the most optimistic, giddy, classes you will ever be a part. Their football teams fight the hardest, take losing the worst, and be able to win with the most smiling philosophy of any athlete.

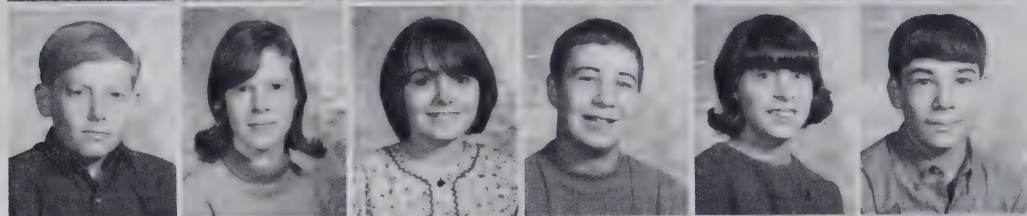

To be in the junior high is to be smashed in the halls, last in line at a drinking fountain and in the back of the auditorium at convocations. It is a place of honor though, to those who belong. This group is the only one that knows every student in the school. They sell the most magazines during the magazine week, and yell the loudest at the basketball and football games.

This is why the junior high is so exclusive. Not just anyone can belong because there is only one time in each person's life that he is capable of being. Yes, being in the junior high is an experience that is treasured, and kept long after the laughter is shut quietly away in a forgotten locker at the end of those two fabulous years.

Action Dominates Jr-Hi Athletics

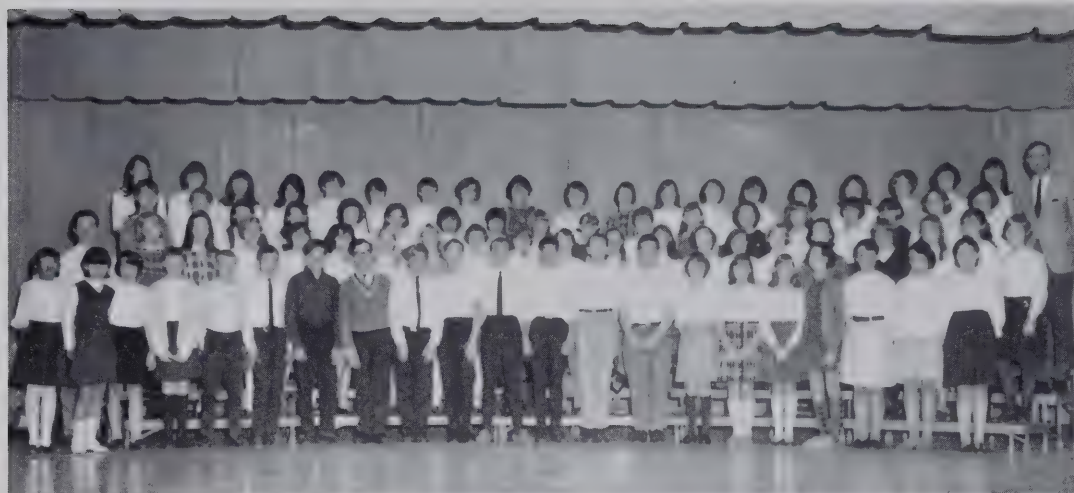

Junior

High Academics

Newly formed Jr. High chorus perform under the leadership of Mr. Kennedy.

Jr. High band, under the direction of Mr. Brandt, improve musical talents.

Jr-Hi Music

Young voices begin early in music preparation at Garrett.

From the seventh grade, students participate in a variety of musical experiences all of which add to the years musical pleasures.

Whether it's beating the drums, twirling a baton, or singing in swinging rhythm, the Garrett Junior High students find enjoyment through music.

Jr. High twirlers are Marilyn Mavity, Carol Baker, Debra Runion, Tammy Anderson, Kay Nolan, and Lucy Diosdado.

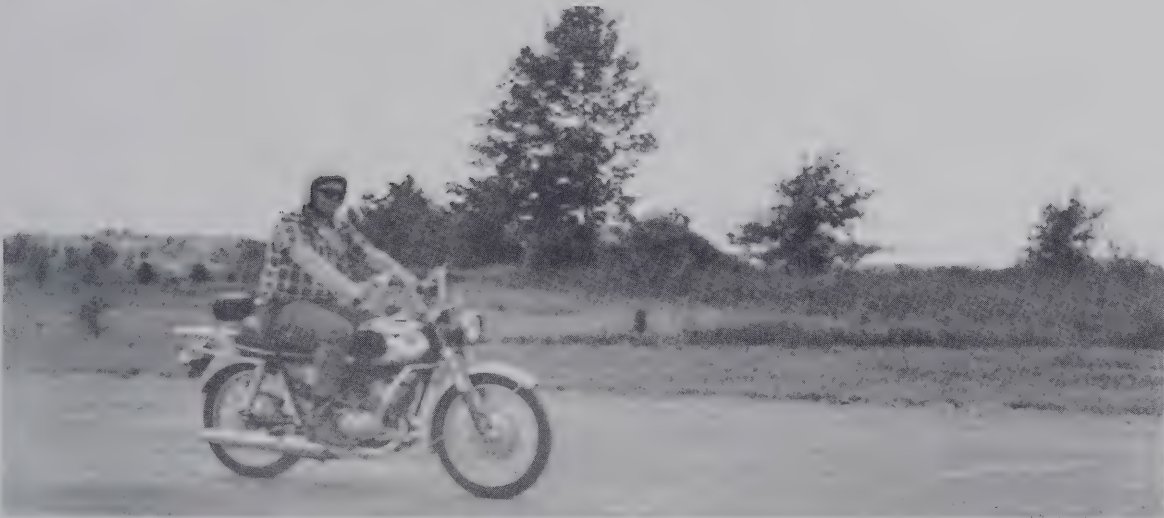

Hats Off to These People!

Aeloian advisor has exceedrin headache #125.

What can a yearbook staff say to two sponsors who have spent their evenings, their free periods, and immeasurable "worrying" time helping to lay out Garrett's history of the year. There is Mr. Ketch, who coaxed, screamed and finally just prayed for us. There is Mrs. Mellott, who fussed over the copy and us, succeeding in better copy and soothed tempers. Mrs. Sweeney was our guiding light to the students themselves. Without her, none would ever read our masterpiece. Thank you Mr. Smith for developing not only our film, but the quality of our yearbook by having fantastic pictures.

Thank you very much. Aeolian '68.

Computational Physicist, Mathematician, Photographer, and Motorcycle Hoodlum ???

"I'll proofread", says Mrs. Mellott.

"Gotcha", smiles Mr. Smith.

"Where's your picture money", asks Mrs. Sweeney.

Garrett's got it was our theme. 1968 is over. Now, Garrett's got emptiness, stillness, and silence for us.

-Karen-
To a real great & nice girl
I'm always had fun with. I hope we'll be friends. Good luck in your future.
Suzzy
"7/11"

To the smartest girl in Latin class grade No 2 try harder.

Best of Luck

(which you don't need)
